DEMAND ADVANCE.

Biggest Turn-Out of Molders Ever Known in This City.

Last Sunday afternoon there assembled at Music Hall the largest gathering of iron molders ever known in Louisville, between 300 and 400 being present. The meeting was for the purpose of making arrangements to present to the local manufacturers the new scale of prices recently agreed upon between the Manufacturers' Defense Association and the Executive Board of the Iron Molders' Union of North America, which provides for an advance of 5 per cent. in wages.

Though the local foundries are not members of the Defense Association, which has already put the advance into effect, President John Cavanaugh anticipates no opposition to the request, which was this week submitted to the employers. A favorable answer is expected today, putting the new scale into effect Monday.

The relations existing between the molders of this city and their employers are of the most friendly nature, all the shops employing union men, and the class of work done in Louisville is probably the best in the entire country.

RECENT DEATHS.

Martin Higgins and wife have the sympathy of their many friends in the loss of their infant daughter, whose funeral took place yesterday afternoon. The little one was the sunshine of a happy home, over which an irreparable gloom has been cast.

The announcement of the death of Arthur J. Riley caused inexpressible grief to a wide circle of friends and relatives.
 He was a well-known young man residing with his parents on Second street, and was a dutiful and affectionate son, whose loss will be keenly felt. His funeral takes place this morning from St.
 Michael's church.

Martin Russell, an aged and respected citizen of Limerick, passed to his eternal reward Thursday morning. For some time past he had been unable to leave his home on West Oak street, and his advanced years hastened his death. The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Father Logan this morning at the Dominican church.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Margaret Welsh, the beloved wife of Henry Welsh, 940 East Market street, which occurred Wednesday evening. The deceased was a lady possessed of many Christian virtues, whose death is a sad blow to her family and many friends.
 Her funeral was largely attended at St.
 John's church yesterday morning.

Michael Hutti, aged fifty-seven years, and for many years engaged in the grocery business in the western part of the city, succumbed to a long illness Tuesday afternoon. The deceased was well known and popular, and during his days of prosperity was a liberal contributor to charities and the needy poor. He is survived by a wife and several grown children. His funeral took place from St. Peter's church yesterday morning.

Sincere sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hallinan, whose home on Kentucky street was entered last Saturday and darkened by the hand of death, when the soul of their little daughter Marie was called to heaven. She was one of the most lovable children, with a bright and cheery disposition, whose place will never be filled. Her funeral took place from the Dominican church Monday morning, and the services were largely attended by sorrowing friends of the family.

The many graduates of the Convent of the Sisters of Mercy on Second street will learn with sorrow of the death of Sister Mary Joseph, which occurred at Portland, Ore. She was a sister of Emil Barbaroux, of this city. Her death makes the third in that family within six weeks.
 Her brother Julius died in Pittsburgh, and three weeks later Emil Barbaroux followed his wife's remains to the grave.
 Another sister is lying ill at the home of the Sisters of Mercy in St. Louis, and her death may have taken place before this reaches our readers.

FINE BOCK BEER.

The breweries of this city have for years enjoyed the distinction of producing the best and purest beer made in the country, particularly their bock beer.
 This year the lager beer breweries have been compelled to divide honors with their common beer brethren. Last Saturday Messrs. John and Frank Walters put out their common bock beer, for which there has been an extraordinary demand during the week. The Clay-Street Brewery brew has an exceptionally fine flavor and we can commend it to the lovers of beer.

MISS O'BRIEN HOME.

Miss Kate O'Brien arrived home this week from a two-weeks' sojourn in New York City, where she obtained from the leading pattern houses and fashion emporiums the handsomest assortment of styles and patterns to be found in this city. She is now ready to receive patrons at her rooms in the Courier-Journal building, where can be seen all the prevailing modes of the East.

VISITED FATHER LOGAN.

Rev. Father Brockbank, who was formerly stationed at the Dominican Convent in this city, is here on a visit and delivered an able and eloquent sermon at the Lenten devotions at the Dominican church last Wednesday evening.

DELANEY'S NEW DISPENSER.

Joseph (Kid) Hennessy, the well-known Limerick bantam pugilist, is now employed at Will Delaney's Exchange, Seventh and St. Catherine streets. Joe's pleasant ways will no doubt prove beneficial to both Delaney and himself.

CHAFF.

Many relics of the ancient Aztecs have been found by Prof. Saville during the past few months and sent to the American Museum of Natural History. Prof.
 Saville is one of the most noted archaeologists of the day.

On Easter morning a new Italian mass by Giorge will be sung in the Cathedral.
 It has never before been presented in this city. Some of its passages are gorgeous as are the sunsets of this composer's native land, others as mellow and beautiful as the eyes of its children. Good vocal-lists have been selected to render the different parts, and Mr. Chase is highly pleased with the progress made so far.

The famous picture by Leonardo da Vinci will eventually be lost to the world.
 Venerated for ages as the work of a master hand, regarded with love and admiration by students and connoisseurs, it will before long have crumbled to dust. Only a fresco, it can not be repaired. Were it on canvas the end of the coming century might witness it in all its mellowed beauty, but the tooth of time will soon have gnawed away the tiny molecules of the fresco, leaving naught but its dust.

A quaint old lady died in London the other day at the age of ninety-one. She was Lady John Scott Spottiswoode, the composer of "Annie Laurie." Few who sing this beautiful old-time ballad know that its composer was living up to two weeks ago, surrounded by wealth and old-time traditions. When traveling she rode in a carriage with postillions, and she preferred that on roofs and peat for fires.

A little sunshine of English favor warms up Rudyard Kipling to a new minut. A few substantial English guineas quicken his pace to a lively jig. A few years ago he was no enemy to the Boers. Since the English threw bouquets at him his admiration for the South African republic was transferred to the Saxon brother. Now that the latter has sworn to crush out the existence of the Dutch republic with a "heel of steel," he heartily approves of it. "When the Rudyard cease their Kiplings will the weary be at rest."

The bubonic plague, known in Bible times and also in the middle ages as the black death, has crept into San Francisco.
 A Chinaman died of the plague there a couple of weeks ago. How he got the disease is a mystery, as he had not been out of this country for several years. The plague is primarily a disease of rats. The rodents spread it one to another, and in running about in the abodes of man infect food and dwelling apartments.
 Scientists claim that if rats can be destroyed all over the world, there will be an end to bubonic plague. To this end they are inoculating these pests with "rat typhoid," which they will transmit to one another, thus causing the death of many thousands at least of the vermin, if not eventually cleansing the earth of them entirely. Apropos to this wholesale destruction comes the theory that has always been advocated of keeping unbroken the chain of life that exists in the animal kingdom. If this one link be annihilated, may we not suffer in some yet unknown manner from its effect?
 Nothing but a complete extermination of these creatures will relieve the world of the black death. Yet destroyed, the after results might be as extraordinary as the remedy adopted.

Prigism is the offshoot of conceit, snobbishness of vulgarity. Pride of wealth is a want of brains, as carping betrays lack of human kindness. Men and women with abundant means can not and do not deserve to enjoy their wealth if any of these different forms of intellectual indigestion has laid hold of them. A striking example to the contrary of this dyspeptic condition is the case of the noted society leader of Boston, Mrs. Jack Gardner. Her courage to do as she pleases, whether to abstain from a society function for the sake of entertaining a coterie of artists, musicians and composers, or to doff her costly gown and like a gentle nun scrub in humility the steps that lead in her belief to God's altar. She has set all sorts of examples of cleverness, of sympathy, of common sense. When the beautiful Carmencita came to this country Mrs. Gardner was the first to have her dance at her private house for a party of her most exclusive friends. Carmencita was thenceforward adored by the smart set, always ready to follow a leader. Had Mrs. Gardner been born poor she would have been a great artist. She is said to have a complexion that is pale, almost colorless, eyes of light blue and hair of the tint that Titian loved to paint. If all the charms that adorn a queen are possessed by this lady, the most deserving of our emulation would be her originality, her naturalness.
 To think aright and dare to act according—what can be more worthy?

RAILWAY MEN'S FRIEND.

Mr. H. E. Snow, a popular clerk at the Illinois Central office and prominent young man in railroad circles, is never so happy as when doing something to make life a pleasure for his friends and associates. Whenever a railroad man is ill or in distress he comes at once to his rescue, and his recent efforts in behalf of certain unfortunate employes are greatly appreciated.

MILLINERY OPENING.

The annual spring millinery opening of the Stewart Dry Goods Company takes place at the New York Store Monday. This store carries a stock that can only be equaled by the largest New York houses. Only the latest and handsomest designs find place here, and our lady readers should not fail to see them.

IRISH-AMERICAN SOCIETY.

The proceedings at the meeting of the Irish-American Society next Thursday evening will interest the members, all of whom are notified to be present. Fifteen candidates are to be initiated and a large batch of applications voted upon. President Charles Feeney and Secretary Joe Byrne are placing this society on the road to success.

MISS LAVEN'S MILLINERY DISPLAY.

Miss Celia Laven, who has spent several weeks in the East selecting spring millinery, returned to the city this week. As a result of her Eastern visit Miss Laven has now on display at her store, 327 Fourth avenue, the choicest creations in Easter millinery, many of which are after designs by several well-known Parisian and New York milliners. It is worth one's while to visit the store and see the beautiful array of hats and other head decorations, which are without doubt the most superb in the city. Miss Laven extends a cordial invitation to her former patrons and friends to inspect the exhibition.

SPORTY ITEMS.

The reported match between Bob Fitzsimmons and Kid McCoy proved to be a fake. The former failed to post his forfeit.

Tom Sharkey has signed articles to meet Kid McCoy before the Seaside Athletic Club June 25, for 60 per cent. of the gross receipts.

Fred Clarke has been working his hot air valve in Pittsburgh. He is as sanguine as when here, and still carries the same old lot of excuses.

The Pittsburgh ball club, which will arrive here next week from Georgia, will put in a week or ten days training at the local park, which has been put in good condition.

Herman Long, the famous Boston shortstop, was among last week's arrivals at West Baden Springs. He has not yet signed with the Boston club for this season, and rumor has it that he may wear a Chicago uniform.

Hart and Meisner, the local heavyweights, are reported in splendid condition for their contest Monday night before the East End Athletic Club. Each has a good following and bets are being made at even money.

Freckles O'Brien and Teddy Sweeney will not appear again in Bowling Green for some time to come. Their twenty-round bout last Monday night was very tame, O'Brien putting his man to sleep in the second round. They have given other towns the same raw deal.

The Nonpartisan Athletic Club announces that it has signed Oscar Gardner, the Omaha Kid, to meet Terry McGovern in this city Derby night. The attempt to belittle Terry because of his refusal to meet Santry was a small piece of business. The less knocking done the better for the Nonpartisan Club.

The Minnesota State convention will be held in Rochester in June. It will be the largest gathering of Hibernians in the history of the State.
